Subject: Question about St. John

Good afternoon. I got your number from Cris D'onofrio who is on the ground here in St John with the EPA. I am in charge on STJ operations for Sea Glass on St John, which is the company that manages most of the units at Sirenusa. As I am sure you can imagine, we are getting quite a few questions from guests regarding the safety of the rest of the property and the other units. I just wanted to reach out to hear from you directly, the EPA's official position on the situation. I am sure that you may have read some of the news articles that have said definitively that the EPA knows the cause of the families illness, but I gather after viewing the operation on the ground that this is highly suspected but not a 100% certainty. Just to be kept internally and relayed to our guests verbally, can you please let me know the EPA's official position on the situation so that I can more accurately ensure our guests, siting an official organization, that they are safe?
